confronting an athlete about these issues is quite difficult; however, there are some signs that make a sports medicine physician suspicious:

or inactivated by cortisol because they have receptors on the actual immune cells themselves sorry, you