by realizing how your negative thoughts you will be able to restructure them to more positive ways of thinking.

Pain management patients should understand the difference between seeing other doctors for reasons other than pain management and doctor shopping.

Acute coronary syndromes (ACS) are responsible for a large number of cardiac-related hospital admissions.